

Neonatal Nurse Education Special Interest Group

Supporting neonatal nursing educators and education

Statement of Purpose

ACNN is dedicated to the promotion of excellence in the care of neonates and their families. The Neonatal Nurse Education (NNE) SIG supports this outcome by monitoring, informing, and making recommendations to the ACNN Executive on all aspects of neonatal nursing education, and by supporting SIG members as they undertake educational roles or projects in neonatal nursing.

The NNE SIG is committed to supporting and facilitating education, which contributes to quality outcomes for neonates, rewarding experiences for neonatal nurses and the advancement of our profession. The SIG supports research by working collaboratively with the Research SIG.

Membership

Membership is open to all current financial members of ACNN who is interested in neonatal nursing education.

Objectives

- Promote, generate, disseminate, and advocate for neonatal education
- Develop productive partnerships between neonatal nurses in clinical areas and the SIG and ACNN more broadly
- Strengthen education, scholarly and public presence of ACNN, including its leadership in and contributions to policy and public debates relevant to neonatal nursing

What can I expect if I join the NNE SIG

By joining the NNE SIG, you can assist in the promotion of neonatal education and have access to:

- Teleconferences
- Minutes
- Current neonatal webinars and/or journal articles
- Educational resources
- Education opportunities
- Possibility to actively participate in the framework of neonatal education within a professional network
- Participate in research exploring education practices in Australia

If you are interested in learning more about the NNE SIG, contact us at educationsig@acnn.org.au or scan the QR code to find our website.

