Skin is the largest organ of the human body and protecting skin is an essential element in providing care to well, preterm and sick newborns. The Neo-Skin Special Interest Group provides a forum for practice and health promotion discussion, emphasizing skin integrity promotion and injury management for neonates and their families. Additionally, the SIG provides a community for neonatal clinicians and collaborators to explore and share quality improvement or research initiatives related to skin care and health.

Key Focus areas

- Skin integrity assessment and risk assessment tools
- Scalp and birth injury
- Medical adhesives and central line related skin injuries
- Dressing or wound care choices
- Skin Injury colour assessment
- Skin conditions of the newborn (dermatitis)
- Extravasation & Infiltration injuries
- Stoma Care

Reference: August D, Kandasamy Y, Ray R and New K. Neonatal skin assessments and injuries: nomenclature, workplace culture, and clinical opinions – method triangulation a qualitative study. Journal of Clinical Nursing, 2020, https://doi.org/10.1111/jocn.15422

Interested in becoming a Neo-Skin SIG Member?

Join online at www.acnn.org.au or if you are already an ACNN member contact us at, neoskinsig@acnn.org.au to go on our email list.

Join one of the Zoom meetings open to all ACNN members - meeting dates and virtual education sessions advertised on our webpages.

Looking for useful Resources?

Visit the members section of the website for helpful resources. You can also join our email list for more frequent updates.

Need financial assistance to attend a workshop or undertake QI or research project related to skin?

Checkout the scholarships available under the scholarship tab on the website.

CHECK OUT OUR WEBPAGE
SCAN THE QR CODE ……

Images taken and shared with permission as part of the NIPIRA study, contact d.august@uq.edu.au for use

Australian College of Neonatal Nurses Inc.1300211
PO Box 195 Sorell, Tasmania, 7172 | e: acnn@acnn.org.au
www.acnn.org.au

ABN 54 975 567 399