

Neo-Skin

Special Interest Group

The skin is the largest organ of the human body, and protecting skin is an essential element in providing care to well, preterm and sick newborns.

Our key focus areas

Skin integrity & risk assessment

Wound &
stoma care

Application & removal of medical adhesives

Blood sampling & vascular
access

Our Aims

- ✓ Provide a forum for discussing practices that promote neonatal skin health, skin injury prevention and management.
- ✓ Provide opportunities for neonatal nurses to explore and share quality improvement or research initiatives related to neonatal skin care and health.
- ✓ Provide skin care resources and information for members to access, supporting clinical practice.
- ✓ Collaborate with national and international neonatal skin care focused organisations to improve outcomes for neonates and their families.

Our resources

Over 20 resources available on our member's webpage. Topics include:

- ✓ Diaper Dermatitis
- ✓ IV access
- ✓ Humidity
- ✓ Tiny Baby Skin Care
- ✓ MARSII - includes links to MARSII removal techniques videos
- ✓ General skin care
- ✓ Humidity
- ✓ Injury Identification
- ✓ Bathing

Join us

Membership is open to current financial members of the ACNN who are interested in neonatal skin care. Contact us for more information about the SIG.

Scan the QR code
or email us
to learn more.

neoskinsig@acnn.org.au