

Why join the Nutrition and Feeding SIG?

Our FOCUS

The right nutrition is vital for healthy growth and development of all newborns but is critical for sick and preterm infants. Appropriate and positive feeding practices go beyond nutrition and have a significant effect on infants' long-term relationship with food.

Our AIM

The key activity of this SIG is providing consistent and reliable information for the benefit of all neonatal nurses on how to support nutrition, breastfeeding, and special needs, to optimise feeding outcomes for all babies and their families. We meet every 2 months.
